TESTIMONIALS:

Thank you for everything you did. You guys are absolutely fantastic at what you do and excellent at managing stakeholders. You make it seem seamless and easy and are worth your weight in gold for the stress you take away from us during an event like that.

Kayleigh Marchant, Senior Internal Communications Manager, LNER

I have been facilitating events for almost 20 years in over 18 different countries. Working with Neil Stewart Associates was incredible. I felt like for the first time I could truly let go, relax and be fully be present to and enjoy the event. They were meticulous in their planning and timekeeping and ensuring that everyone knew which breakout session they were going to and each speaker knew what was happening. This freed me up to be able to network and to connect others with one another. The expert tech team were incredible and livestreamed the day and, because the event was hybrid, we were able to ensure it was fully accessible for everyone who wished to attend either online or in person. We were even able to have questions from the online audience answered from the stage. I was able to completely trust that Neil Stewarts Associates had everything covered, because they did, right down to making sure that the excess food from lunch went to a local homeless charity. I would highly recommend working with Neil Stewarts Associates and I look forward to working with them again.
